IN THE

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

October Term, 1985

VERNON C. BUCKLEY,
Appellant,

v.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,
Appellee.

On Appeal from the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania

JURISDICTIONAL STATEMENT

October 27, 1986

This petition is for a rehearing of the dismissal of the Jurisdictional Statement I presented to the Court.

I certify that this petition is presented in good faith and not for delay.

In my opinion the members of the court do not understand why I am appealing.

I believe there is a substantial federal question: What is more important than the violation of the 14th Amendment to our Constitution?

I file and pay a New Jersey State income tax just as my neighbor does but he does not have to file or pay a Pennsylvania State income tax because he is not self-employed.

Does the State of Pennsylvania have the right to make me file and pay a Personal State Income Tax only because I am self-employed?

Would the Supreme Court uphold a Federal Income Tax law that only required the self-employed to file and pay the tax? I think not.

This is a substantial federal question and I feel that, as a citizen, I have the right to request that the Supreme Court of my country hear and make a decision regarding this question.

If the Court feels the State of Pennsylvania has the right to treat citizens of New Jersey in a different manner, I would respectfully ask them to give me a reason why this is possible under the United States Constitution.

Respectfully submitted

Vernon C. Buckley
